

Does the housing authority screen tenants?

Answer: The Housing Authority does screening as to income eligibility for the program and criminal background screening in limited circumstances. Screening for tenant suitability remains the landlord's responsibility.