

If I sign the Request for Tenancy Approval (RTA) form am I committed to renting to the family?

Answer: No. The Request for Tenancy Approval form is simply your intention to rent to the tenant and sets the terms for the tenancy. Either party may withdraw from the process before a lease or contract is executed. Your lease is the binding agreement with your tenant.